Call for Papers

The use of corrugated board as a versatile material for various applications and products is increasing year by year. The Papiertechnische Stiftung (PTS) will be offering a platform for the exchange of knowledge and experience on the topic of corrugated board in November 2022 with the Corrugated Board Symposium at the Penck Hotel Dresden. In a demanding and varied program, speakers from industry, business and science will discuss interesting and future-oriented topics.

You are invited to support the symposium with a contribution to the following topics or beyond:

- Markets and future trends in corrugated board packaging
- Innovative product solutions for corrugated packaging and displays
- Current developments in the production and processing of corrugated board
- New products from the supplier industry (adhesives, printing inks)
- Quality assurance in corrugated board processing (printability, flatness, measurement technology)
- Requirements of logistics, trade and branded companies to the industry (track & trace, packaging on demand, A & I packaging)
- Sustainability and circular economy

The Papiertechnische Stiftung (PTS) offers you the opportunity to place a 30-minute presentation and to represent your company.

REQUIREMENTS:

- Submission until 30.06.2022
- Meaningful summaries in English
- Conference language: English
- Maximum one DIN-A4 page
- Indication of authors and companies involved
- Send your summary to our directorships
